Studio A is an incredibly flexible studio space - with extra high ceilings and over 100 square metres of production space. The studio usually operates in fully robotic mode and offers a flexible and dynamic space for shooting live news, magazine shows or discussion formats. Five robotic 4K TV cameras allow you to save on crew costs, but each camera can be manually operated if needed. The studio overlooks a newsroom to give you a professional news backdrop or you can shoot against our 'distressed' brick wall
